Aríssimi: No-lí-te mi-rá-ri, si odit vos mundus. Nos scimus, quóni-am translá-ti sumus de morte ad vi-tam, quóni-am di-lí-gimus fratres. Qui non dí-li-git, manet in morte: omnis qui odit fratrem su-um, homi-cída est. Et sci-tis quóni-am omnis homi-cída non habet vi-tam ætérnam in seme-típso manéntem. In hoc cognóvimus ca-ri-tátem De-i, quóni-am ille ánimam su-am pro nobis pósu-it: et nos debémus pro frátribus ánimas pónere. Qui habú-erit substánti-am hu-jus mundi, et víde-rit fratrem su-um necessi-tátem habé-re, et cláuse-rit víscera su-a ab e-o: quómo-do cá-ri-tas De-i manet in e-o?

Fi-lí-o-li me-i, non di-ligá-mus verbo, neque lingua, sed ópere, et ve-ri-táte.
